LOGIN 2014 was an extraordinary success for me on every level. As a participant, the sessions and exhibits were of the quality one would expect in Las Vegas or Barcelona. As a speaker, I was greeted warmly and attended to royally and my session was standing-room-only in a huge venue. And as a bonus, I received first hand exposure to the rich history of Lithuania.

I never saw so many enthusiastic young smart people with the inner urge to be a part of the future, with information technology as the driving force. The motivation and spirit was so positive that I hope to attend future LOGIN events if possible.

A good predictor of the future is to look for what is appreciated today. The knowledge needed to change the world is universal. What it takes to make a difference is to be motivated. I saw that motivation at LOGIN in all attendees. They have the desire to make a difference and to be successful. I saw the entrepreneur spirit alive to an extent I have seen in few parts of the world.

If I were young, I'd be among them.
